MILKMAID

OF THE MILKY WAY

A game by

Introduction

Milkmaid of the Milky Way is a puzzle adventure game where you play Ruth, a young woman living on Calf Ledge, a remote farm in a faraway fjord in Norway. The year is 1929 and your parents have passed, leaving you alone to tend the farm and take care of the cows. Once a week your friend Erlend from the village visits to sell your dairy produce. It's a lonely, hard life. And when a huge, golden ship descends from the skies, Ruth's world is turned upside-down.

How to play

The game should be launched from the Steam interface and show you an introduction screen.

Here you can start a New Game, edit sound and music volume in Options, Load a previous Game you've saved, or read a little About Milkmaid.

To control Ruth, you simply click on where you want her to go. If you double-click somewhere, she will run towards that point. To pick up or examine an object, click it. If it's possible to pick the object up it will be placed in your inventory at the bottom of the screen. Here you can click it again to learn more about the object. If you want to use the object somewhere, just drag it from your inventory and drop it where you want use it.

You carry a Diary which you might want to read. It tells you more about Ruth and her life. Click the diary and turn pages by clicking the left and right buttons. To Exit the diary, just click outside the diary to close it.

The diamond in the corner takes you to the Pause menu where you can edit Options, Save or Load a game, or Quit the game.

The game auto-saves as you play, but I would recommend to save the game whenever you feel you've made progress. This also makes it possible for other people to play the game and keep different saves - just don't overwrite your girlfriend's/boyfriend's/granmother's save games! Auto-saved games should be thought of as a backup, please don't rely solely on it to save your progress.

Achievements

There are six Steam achievements in total for Milkmaid which you'll get if you complete the game.

If you get stuck

If you can't figure out what to do next, take a breath and relax. Maybe you haven't found an object you need, or you haven't looked at the problem from all angles. Remember, you can't fail in this game, and you can't die. You just have to use your brain and wits, and you'll get through.
